Exhibitor

Promote your business/product to over 400 corporate guests.

Advertising

Advertising your product to the high profile business women and entrepreneurs is an ideal way to promote your product to an audience who may not be aware of what you have to offer.

We have a range of advertising options in our event pack of the day. The event information combines as a member directory and a note book which means it has a useful purpose beyond the event itself, making sure that your investment as an advertiser lives on after the day.
